FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 33

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY JULY 20, 1934

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

Green Back to Old Stamping Ground

COLUMBUS. — William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, returned to the scene of his earlier triumphs last week when he came to Columbus to address the jubilee convention of the Ohio State Federation of Labor. In 1911-14 Green was president of the Ohio Federation of Labor. He introduced the workmen's compensation act and led the successful fight for this law and the anti-screen mine law. Before entering the senate Green mined coal in Coshocton county. He was president of the Ohio Mine Workers Union from 1906 to 1910, and secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America from 1913 to 1925. In December, 1924, he was elected president of the American Federation of Labor to succeed Samuel Gompers. All it happens, O. B. Chapman, president of the Ohio Federation of Labor, served in the Ohio house from Dayton when Mr. Green was in the senate.

Thirty-four of the 4,200 men in the Ohio Penitentiary are laying the groundwork for a business life when released. They are taking a commercial course in the prison school with an avid interest. Bookkeeping, shorthand, commercial law and arithmetic are the special subjects studied. The class made the high average of 93 per cent last month. The class is especially grateful to Warden P. E. Thomas for encouraging this branch of the school. Homer E. Lee is the civilian instructor.

E. O. Bolander of the teachers' training corps at Ohio State University has been given a year's leave of absence to act as assistant state supervisor of vocational agriculture to take the place of J. B. McClelland, who is also on a year's leave of absence to act as director of emergency schools in the state relief department.

The Ohio Electric Light and Power League has been organized by the private and municipal light and power companies of the state to conduct a campaign for the prevention of accidents. H. C. Crain, Canton, was elected chairman, M. G. Irvin, Norwalk, secretary, and R. H. Crone, Cincinnati, F. M. Baxley, Bellefontaine, and R. S. Metzger, Toledo, members of the rules committee. The campaign will run to Jan. 1, 1935.

According to the annual report of the Ohio School of the Air for the school year 1933-34, just issued, the number of listening school pupils during the year was 50,181. This is based on 146 reports out of 182 from schools using the broadcasts. Request for suggestions from school principals for improving the programs brought many replies.

A veil of deep mystery and a cloud of speculation have been thrown about a small house boat anchored last week in the Scioto River opposite the State Departments building. While the incongruous habitat of the historic stream has been in the vicinity of the imposing state office building for more than a year, its unknown owner has never before had the effrontery to shove it beneath the very windows of Ohio imposing structure. The incident has raised the question of official authority over the Scioto river in Columbus. According to Public works department engineers, the river was under state control for canal purposes from 1883 to 1911. In the latter year control of the slack water in the river from the dam near the foot of Main street to the site of the penitentiary was abandoned by the state and the bed and banks of the river between the points named transferred to Columbus by legislative act. In March, 1917, a law was adopted authorizing the governor to deed forever to the city of Columbus the title to the state dam, the slack water and the bed and banks from the dam to the confluence of the Scioto and Olentangy rivers.

According to the Ohio Health Department, Fourth of July fatalities this year were only about one-third what they were the country over in 1931. Drowning caused most deaths, 70 out of 176, three in Ohio. Automobile fatalities were 69, two in Ohio.

Market 20 Pigs And Get 68c Return

CORTLAND, Ill.—Mrs. A. Mosback's 20 pigs went to market and netted her the grand total of 68 cents—a little more than 3 cents each for the 1,630 pounds of pork she devoted the time and energy to raise.

The pigs actually sold for $12.22, but reductions of $11.54 had to be made. Here's why, as explained yesterday by the Chicago Producers' Commission Association.

The pigs, classed as culls, were sold at a time when the market for small swine was depressed because of heavy offerings of light animals during the drought. They brought only 75 cents a hundred pounds. Marketing costs deducted from the sale price included $2.80 for use of pens, scales and runways, at the stockyards, and 55 cents for corn the pigs ate.

The insurance company got $1.40 for insuring them against injury en route and 5 cents more to insure them against fire. The truck company took $3.67 for hauling the pigs and the commission house $3 for selling them. The meat board got 7 cents.

That left 68 cents for Mrs. Mosback. The packing concern must pay a government processing tax of $2.25 per hundred pounds on the pigs.

Clouds of White Dust Envelope Xenia Ave.

With the improvement of Xenia avenue and Chillicothe street and making ready for the black top it was necessary for the contractor to use a revolving wire sweeper to scour the street until it was perfectly clean. This raised clouds of white dust like lime that gave everything on the street a white coating and most of the homes had a liberal share spread on furniture and draperies. While the ordeal was no doubt discomforting to the women folks they will be amply repaid in a few days by having a fine new street with an asphalt base top that should be dustless. The first layer goes on this week and will set for a few days and the street opened for traffic. About the first of September the second and last coat will be applied.

Under CWA, about 100 projects were operated while under FERA, twenty-five projects have been in progress, including a number left unfinished when the former program expired.

Ninety-four divorce suits were filed in Greene County Common Pleas Court during the fiscal year ending June 30, an increase of 18 over the preceding 12-month period, it is revealed in the annual report of Earl Short, chief deputy clerk of courts. Gross neglect of duty was charged in 57 of the divorce actions, cruelty constituted the grounds in 21 cases, wilful absence from home in 13 cases and three others contained miscellaneous allegations.

The report also showed that civil judgments awarded during the last fiscal period numbered 293, amounting aggregately to $349,984.70, an average of $3,241.40 for each judgment. New suits filed, according to the report, totaled 283 civil and 46 criminal.

If less than thirty women enroll, the camp will need to be postponed. The enrollment date is July 28 and women who care to make reservations will please call or write your County Home Demonstration Agent. Refreshments will also be taken by the local Home Extension Council member.

Education Boards To Refund Debts

H. C. Aultman, Greene County school superintendent, has informed boards of education of eleven school districts in the county school system, calling attention to recent passage by the state legislature of two bills which provide for the mandatory funding of school indebtedness up to July 1 of this year.

Enabling both state-aid and non-state-aid districts to catch up with their old bills, the measure enacted will make it possible for districts to borrow money in one instance against the cigarette tax, which will later be paid by the state department of education, and in the second instance against anticipated collection of delinquent taxes for 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934.

"When this is done, your August tax distribution will have been saved in order to carry on school up until January, 1935," Supt. Aultman advised in letters to the districts.

The county superintendent said he expects arrival of necessary blank forms from the state department within a few days and will forward them to the districts. "Everything must have been completed by September," he pointed out.

State-aid districts in the county are Caesar Creek, Cedarville, Clifton, Yellow Springs and Sugar Creek. The refunding measures also apply to the following non-state aid districts: Xenia Twp., Beaver Creek, Ross, Jefferson, Spring Valley and Silver Creek.

More Street Lights Are Now Possible

Measures G. H. Hartman and H. H. Brown have been making a survey relative to location of street lights under the new contract of the village council with The Dayton Power & Light Co.

The old contract originally called for 51 lights and some sections of the town were not given as much service as required. The committee is trying to equalize the number of lights to give better service. It is also possible that ten additional lights can be provided under the new contract which will not increase the present monthly payment, or total under the old contract. Under the new contract the 51 lights came in the $25 per year classification while with 61 lights the rate would be $24 per year. The additional lights must be approved by council. With the additional lights the town will be better lighted than ever before.

A. E. Allen Gets Time Extension In Court

Federal Judge Robert E. Nevin, Dayton, has granted E. A. Allen a temporary injunction which checks the sale of the elevator property at the railroad as ordered by the Greene County Common Pleas Court and which was to be sold by Sheriff John Baughn, Saturday. The mortgage was held by Mrs. Jane Arthur, Springfield, and she had been given judgment for $5,000.

The suit was originally brought some months ago due to non-payment of the note, interest and taxes. Judge Gowdy granted an extension and when default followed under his order of court, the order of sale was issued to Sheriff Baughn.

Mr. Allen filed a debtor's petition under the bankruptcy act asking for further extension of time. The property had been appraised at $9,200. Attorney Frank L. Johnson represents Mrs. Arthur, and states that he will contest the petition filed in Federal Court.

NEW METHOD CHOOSING FAIR BOARD MEMBERS

A long standing method of electing directors of the Greene County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the annual Greene County Fair, is to be discarded, it was learned Wednesday. Under a new mandatory ruling of the state department of agriculture candidates for membership on the fair board will no longer be limited to residents of townships in which vacancies occur.

Formerly, in order to guarantee the fairest possible representation on the thirteen-member board, directors of the society selected one or more rival candidates each year to run against incumbent members whose terms expired, the selections being made in the same township.

But under the new method, candidates will no longer be governed by their place of residence. The only requirement made of a candidate is that he or she file with the secretary of the board, at least three days in advance of the annual election, a nominating petition signed by five or more individuals who held membership in the Society the previous year.

Six vacancies will occur on the board this year and an election will take place on Thursday and Friday of the 1934 county fair, the board announces. Family tickets constitute membership in the Society, and only holders of 1934 tickets will be eligible to vote for candidates.

Candidates for three-year terms on the board must file their petitions with Secretary J. Robert Bryson not later than 8 a. m. Monday, July 30.

Directors whose terms expire this year are: J. E. Lewis, Ross Twp.; Grant Miller, Beaver Creek Twp.; B. U. Bell, Xenia; N. N. Hunter, Jamestown; Mrs. L. H. Jones, Miami Twp.; and A. B. Lewis, Jefferson Twp.

Jury Is Waived In Court Suit

A jury having been waived by mutual consent, trial of a suit filed by Mrs. Esther W. Warner against the Aetna Life Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., and Walter F. Finkes, seeking to determine Finkes' interest in two insurance policies for $10,000 and $5,000, was in progress yesterday before Judge R. L. Gowdy in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Warner, in her petition, requested that her husband, Rodney J. Warner, be named beneficiary in the policies in accordance with what she claims were the original instructions to the insurance firm at the time of their issuance.

Uncle Sam Spends $300,000 In County

The federal government has paid nearly $300,000 to Greene co. workmen for wages since its job-giving program started.

The sum of $244,712 was spent in pay rolls alone during the life of the CWA and in 15 weeks of the FERA, the sum of $49,664.82 has been distributed in pay rolls.

In addition the government has spent approximately $25,000 for materials and the programs have resulted in completion of a number of much needed public works.

Objects To Act In Error Petition

Probate Judge S. C. Wright is accused of unethical procedure in a petition in error filed in Common Pleas Court on behalf of Oscar Grooms, Xenia, appealing from his conviction by a lower court jury on a non-support charge.

Claim is made that Judge Wright erred in communicating with the jury after the case had been submitted, receiving a note from the juror, and himself writing notes to the jurors covering their instructions. Grooms was fined $1,000 costs and sentenced to six months in jail June 15.

MR. SPARKS KEEPS ON SPARKING

As the Republican primary campaign progresses every one realizes the effort most of the candidates are making to keep the contest from being a personal back-biting affair. No doubt much of the trouble the party has experienced in past years was due to personalities injected in primary campaigns that were later carried into the regular election.

To the credit of the candidates what little dust thrown is not drawing much attention or even causing much comment with the average citizen. For some weeks Nelson Sparks, former mayor of Akron, has found pleasure, but no profit to his campaign, in asking questions of other candidates in public, with the hope of embarrassment. In most instances such questions have been ignored for various reasons.

Mr. Sparks was one of the first candidates to announce, yet it was known at the time there would be others to enter the field. He was the first to open headquarters with a paid staff, which he yet has in the field. If questions were in order Mr. Sparks might be asked as to who his sponsors are: He might also be asked as to the connection of the wife of the chief counsel of one of the largest gas companies in Ohio with his campaign. Thus far Sparks has directed his attack against Clarence J. Brown, and Daniel Morgan, the latter being the candidate of Maschke, Cuyahoga county boss and noted "daddy" of the gas and electric lobby in Ohio that has controlled the Ohio legislature. The final question that might be asked Mr. Sparks is whether he is directing his campaign for himself, or to split the vote in favor of Mr. Morgan, formerly city manager of Cleveland, where bonds are defaulted with regularity and politicians thwarted fixing the responsibility of several thousand dollar shortage in the county treasury.

Greene county is taking a very unusual position in the present Republican primary contest. Mr. Sparks is a native of this county, having been a non-resident for a number of years, and it is the first time that we can recall that the county has not risen to back a favorite son. With all of the Sparks bombast one seldom hears his name mentioned in the county. You never hear an appeal of support from the standpoint of the "favorite son" candidate. On the contrary you hear the name of Clarence J. Brown as the choice in Greene county, as he was two years ago. Indications are that his vote this year will be even greater than in the last campaign.

You can go from one end of the county to the other; you can cross-section Xenia City, Sparks' home town, and the most conservative estimate at this time is that Sparks will not be able to carry a single precinct in Greene county. With this condition other sections of the state should not get excited over what Mr. Sparks has to say of his opponents. In no quarter is he given a one-two-three place in the primary race.

OHIO TASTING STATE SOCIALISM

We hear so much these days about Communism in Washington, and there is evidence of it in the federal government departments. In Ohio you find a Democratic administration that has turned completely towards State Socialism. That leading Democrats resent the trend of events is best shown by the open hostility towards the White administration. Democratic papers that have in the past stood fast against adoption of socialism and sponsored party principles now find the most radical socialist program fastened on the state. Here we find party support lacking for Gov. White, as a candidate for higher honors.

The White administration is using public funds to lease vacant buildings situated in various sections of the state, mostly owned or controlled by politicians, to be used for the manufacture of clothing, bed mattresses, etc. The sponsors have ventured on this reckless spending spree in the name of giving employment to the unemployed. Imagine placing a street worker behind a sewing machine to produce clothing. What could the unemployed plumper do towards sewing a mattress? What could the unemployed woman do towards making shoes if she had never even been inside of a shoe factory? How far would a political appointee be able to go in managing a business in which he knows nothing about?

The products of these so-called factories must be purchased by relief authorities for distribution to those on relief. The merchant in Xenia or Cedarville would be deprived of this business, yet is asked to support the state by taxation. If merchants cannot sell, manufacturers need not produce, and this again throws hundreds out of employment. The final analysis is that for each person given a job in the socialistic experiment, a dozen experienced workers may find themselves out of employment.

The White program is not for real relief. It is for no other purpose than to purchase votes and place politicians on the state pay roll. It also gives the administration the opportunity of expanding its power in the purchase of machinery and raw materials for the new experiment.

CLEAN OUT THE AIR CHANNELS NEXT

Now that the concerted movement among the leading religious denominations has sent fear into the heart of the moving picture industry and there promises to be more of a clean-up than would even be possible under a federal order or by state or federal legislation, public attention should be directed towards a cleansing of the air channels and the broadcasting stations given the once-over.

There has been anything but decency in many of the motion pictures and the business would not have grown into the habits of the people where it has were it not for some excellent timely and educational historical features that have been offered along with many comedy pictures that attract not only old but young. The motion picture industry has never kept Will Hays as the head of the industry for another purpose than his once prominent standing with religious bodies. His position has been nothing more than a window dressing for which he was paid a salary much greater than any president of the United States.

But to clean out the picture theatres of undesirable features alone and let the broadcasting companies continue to flood homes with the kind of "rubbish" to be found today, would not be meeting public demand. It has been said that many artists who have part in programs of the air have protested as to the manner in which programs are built but the advertiser, or his agency thinks the American people want slush and for that reason the classics of years standing are changed and rewritten to work in anything suggestive but what the original writer intended.

We are not so sure the public is giving approval of so much time being granted representatives of different branches of the government. When the President has an important message the people are ready for it, but there is a difference in a message concerning public welfare and propaganda. Ninety-five per cent of the broadcasts of today carry no important message from government spokesmen, including senators or representatives, but are propaganda to further some political interest. For any administration to use the radio and have it so controlled by a government board that it has first call, and that opposing issues cannot be given the same chance, we have permitted the air channels to be closed to all the people. To force government censorship of the press as does Germany, would overturn the government. Government control of the air is nothing more than censorship, the government giving only one side of a public issue to the people.

The air channels not only need to be cleaned but they must be left open that each side of public questions can be debated.

When it comes to giving yourself the Roosevelt acid test as to present day conditions over a year ago, here is one you might ponder over: "Which came first, the credit hen or the credit egg?"

As we scan the various bank statements called for by national and state bank authorities, one is impressed with the enormous amount of money on deposit and in savings accounts. Many banks have been unable to loan money in any quantity and have been forced to lower their rates, but still loans are not going out as in normal times. But these are not normal times. Why? The credit egg has spoiled and bankers cannot use bad eggs. Consequently few applications for loans are regarded safe. This is well illustrated when a local farmer some days ago complained that he had loaned a fellow farmer a good sized sum for a certain time. The time was long past due and neither principle or interest has been paid. As a result the farmer loaning the money is not keen about extending a favor to anyone else. The farmer's experience is just the experience bankers have. There is a lot of good credit in the country but it is not in the market for borrowed money in these uncertain times. Prospects of Socialism becoming a fixed thing in Washington is dangerous to real recovery. Inflation is looked upon such as "Prosperity is just around the corner-Hoover."

Not so long ago President Roosevelt shot a dose of silver into our monetary system. Government printing presses today are grinding out $10,000,000 in new paper money, which will soon be placed in circulation. That is one form of controlled inflation. The perplexing problem now is about getting this inflation exchanged in the hands of the people, especially those who think inflation is a good thing. It would be a good thing for the moment, just like getting a shot of dope in the arm and then the happy space of time that passes. But what a headache when the dope is gone. While your Uncle Sam is printing all this money we must find some way to get part of it. The banks must put up gold or silver, or equivalent, before Uncle Sam gives the banks a supply. If the banks works a day and is given a check the banks hands out the new money as cash on the check. The farmer gets his check for hogs or wheat, and the bank cashes the check pays out the inflated money. In the course of time editors and preachers will be receiving this new money, in exchange for some service, just like the day laborer. No, inflation does not mean that you will get a handful of this kind of money in some mysterious way, as if Santa Claus had made a trip one of these hot July nights. Inflation sounds good, just like dope makes you feel good.

In 1920 George White, was one of the main spokes in the James M. Cox organization wheel for the presidency, with Franklin Roosevelt running for a second place as vice president. In 1934 George White, now Governor of Ohio, is running in the Democratic primary for United States Senator from this state. Gov. White has boasted much of his Klondike luck as a digger for gold back in the rich days, but his luck as a candidate is like a cup of bitters. His fortune in politics must have been blasted with President Roosevelt decided to back Prof. West, Granville, as the announced to carry the New Deal banner. Last Saturday, Ex-Gov. Cox fired a shot into the White camp with the statement that the Governor stood no chance of being nominated, and came out for Prof. West. As Cox was defeated by 750,000 votes in his race for president in Ohio against Warren G. Harding, the former manager of the Cox campaign, Gov. White, now informs his old political friend, that defeat by that many votes does not give him right to dictate who shall or shall not run for the Democratic nomination for Senator. Vice Donahay, who as governor and state auditor never took orders from the political bosses, sits back and smiles as he continues his campaign for the honor both West and White seek. Cox has no use for Vice but for that matter never did, and Vice was governor loans, or insurance companies. If just the same. Today Vice would get more votes than West and White opposition to such a law is about ten combined and many Democrats realize that the West-White fight is only insurance policies and knowing that aiding the Donahay campaign. On most companies hold real estate mortgages, the otherside of the fence Republicans gages as investment, interest was a do not look kindly on any fight among wakened when it became known that the Democrats that would give the interest of the policy holder might strength to Donahay. If West is at stake. The representative of nominated the White followers will one of the largest life insurance company West; and the reverse is true if panics called on us this week in White should be nominated. This wet to our editorial and furnished a makes Republicans feel good now but financial statement showing his company trouble comes double if Donahay is nominated. Opposing the strongest candidate and holding the only $6000. We have been informed independent Republican vote that has the law will be contested as it should always been for Vice, will be a real problem.

With the American Farm Bureau and National Grange now opposing most of the Wallace-Tugwell AAA farm relief program, now comes the Cooperative branch of the farm industry at a meeting in Madison, Wis., last week going on record of opposition to regimentation and the Russian two-five year plan of controlling agriculture. Not all the university heads in the country back Socialist Tugwell in his AAA program. Dr. Glenn Frank, president of Wisconsin University, at the meeting last week stated: "The farmers of the United States must choose between a sweeping regimentation of agriculture from Washington and a sweeping reorganization of the total agriculture forces of the nation. Permanent adoption of regimentation means prompt death of the cooperative movement."

It was evident at the gathering of farm leaders last week that government representatives were there for no other purpose than to disorganize the cooperative movement. Cooperative speakers from the first session until the close directed a verbal war against the AAA program. Many farm leaders are now beginning to realize how impossible it is going to be to improve farm prices by restricting crops and at the same time please the great urban union labor element in the price of living. The farm producer may get a small increase over what he has had in the past, but part of his capital tied up in restricted acreage, is not going to bring him a profit. He is also beginning to realize, as was stated at the Madison meeting that what ever increased profit was to be gained by the AAA, it would be a small amount compared to the increased cost of overhauling the farm was forced to purchase. The cooperatives also resented dictation from Washington as to what should and should not be done.

Those who have dabbled in stocks and bonds in Wall Street have paid the operators a pretty penny covering the hay-day when money was found on bushes. A report of the Senate investigating committee places the profit one billion and nine hundred and seventy-five million dollars. The value of these stocks, mostly water, dropped seventy-four billion following the Wall Street crash in 1929. This report shows how helpless the little investor is as a speculator in the big market. The big boys form a pool on a certain stock and then push it up to a high figure and unload on the public that falls for that kind of speculation or gambling as it should be termed. President Roosevelt named a commission to reform speculation and headed it with Joseph P. Kennedy, a Boston broker, who had taken a profit of $65,000 as his share of the recent Libby-Owens-Ford stock pool. You can judge for yourself what kind of reform will be forced on Wall Street. Many years ago we witnessed the "old shell" game on an Ohio river excursion boat. A capper could win the five dollar stake with ease, but the tenderfoot that put up his money always lost. A boat policeman was appealed to for aid by a young Kentucky gambler. All the consolation the young man received was, "If you don't understand the game, stay out." That should be the advice to the novice that would try to get rich on Wall Street.

The strike situation in California continues to gain ground with hundreds of special city and county officers as well as several thousand national guardsmen on duty to protect lives and property. San Francisco, known in labor circles as a closed town, suffers most as business is paralyzed and food to citizens is more or less rationed. Public eating houses have been forced to close. It is claimed 150,000 men have joined the strike to aid the longshore strikers, where shipping interests have refused to recognize the union. There is no street car service, no movies, no gasoline, no barbers and no meat stores permitted to sell meat owing to union cutters joining in the strike. The first 100 per cent return of NRA accomplishment under the New Deal. No one knows the day or the hour that the White state socialist regime in Columbus will signal labor leaders to apply the California system in this state.

We have had some favorable comment as well as unfavorable comment on a recent editorial in which we disapproved of the six year moratorium on mortgage notes whether held by individuals, banks, building and loan associations, or insurance companies. If more votes than West and White opposition to such a law is about ten combined and many Democrats realize that the West-White fight is only insurance policies and knowing that aiding the Donahay campaign. On most companies hold real estate mortgages, the otherside of the fence Republicans gages as investment, interest was a do not look kindly on any fight among wakened when it became known that the Democrats that would give the interest of the policy holder might strength to Donahay. If West is at stake. The representative of nominated the White followers will one of the largest life insurance company West; and the reverse is true if panics called on us this week in White should be nominated. This wet to our editorial and furnished a makes Republicans feel good now but financial statement showing his company trouble comes double if Donahay is nominated. Opposing the strongest candidate and holding the only $6000. We have been informed independent Republican vote that has the law will be contested as it should always been for Vice, will be a real problem.

President Roosevelt the law was unconstitutional and the President signed it under hesitation but expressed the hope the Supreme Court would pass on it. It is hard to have a law of that kind that is fair to all interests. There are some who are burdened with heavy debt that are entitled to some relief no doubt but the present law opens up a way for the rascal who probably has no intention to pay on his debt, knowing he had protection by the moratorium.

Illinois has a state administration much like what is forced on Ohio. In that state the governor calls the legislature together as if it was a town council, a-la-George White. All sorts of promises were made in the campaign for lower taxes but the administration only has found new ways for more taxes each time it is called together. The farm and home owner have revolted and now Illinois will try and equal Ohio. An initiated bill is now before the electorate that if adopted will put the tax limitation on all real estate at one per cent. Cuyahoga county politicians are now trying to find away to breakdown the Ohio law. The cities claim the rural counties dominate the legislature on tax matters and for that reason newspapers in most of the large cities urge support of Morgan, Cleveland, for Republican nominee; and Sawyer, Cincinnati for the Democratic nominee. The Cincinnati Enquirer endorses Clarence J. Brown and Charles Sawyer, for the respective tickets. Rural counties were fooled on classification; next on the so-called Home Rule Amendment. Rural folks had better stand together this time.

VALUE FOUR ESTATES

Valuations have been placed on four estates in Probate Court, as follows: Estate of Mary S. Bain: gross value, $4,000, consisting of a one-third interest in a 225-acre farm; debts have been paid and the net value, less a $261.11 life estate interest, is $3,738.89. Estate of Wesley Pippin: gross value, $1,619.89; debts and administrative cost, $700.51; net value, $919.38. Estate of Edward Wisecup: gross value, $1,514; debts and administrative cost, $387.76; net value $1,126.24. Estate of Myrtle Northrup: gross value, $1,000; debts and administrative cost, nothing; net value, $1,000.

Ohio Drys Propose State "Liquor Compensation Fund"

A new move is on foot in Ohio, promoted by the dry forces of the state, which would make it possible for the victims of the liquor traffic to receive some financial compensation for injuries sustained because of that trade. The "liquor compensation fund," says press reports, would be built up from the profits from the state liquor stores, and it is likely that the largest class of beneficiaries would be the victims of drunken drivers.

As a nearly beneficiary of such a fund, however, the name of Mrs. Mary Kuna is proposed, a resident of Lakewood, who wrecked a "beer parlor" by throwing beer steins through the windows because, as she testified, her husband spent most of his time and his money there, as well as hers, until she is said to be actually destitute.

"We have a parallel for such a fund in Ohio. The state collects dog taxes. When dogs kill farmers' sheep, the farmers can collect from the state out of the general fund raised by the owners of all dogs. We contend that the liquor traffic is the worst dog of all, and that since these places operate under the state, it is the state's responsibility to compensate the innocent victims."

Michigan Fighting The Bootleggers
Restrictions on alcohol purchase are being tightened by the state liquor control commission in Michigan, because of the activities of bootleggers in that state, according to the press. The new regulations will require adequate proof on the part of the would-be purchaser that the alcohol to be bought will be used only for legitimate purchases. In every case the alcohol must come from the bonded warehouses, and an accurate record of all transactions must be kept on file.

Liquor Traffic Incenses California Leaders

School authorities and other leaders in San Diego, the southern California center of 150,000 people, are much aroused at the recklessness and defiance of decency, shown by the legalized liquor traffic. As a result, Dr. Charles Tupper, acting superintendent of schools and George Crawford, business manager, were ordered to make a city-wide investigation regarding wide-spread selling of liquor to minors and within prohibited distance of local schools.

"In the old saloon days we had much better regulations to protect our children," O. A. Darnell, board member, declared, according to press reports. "Now every movement is for the liberalization of the laws and they were framed by leaders in the liquor business. It is time the good citizens take a stand. Those who voted for repeal are sorry. The results are not at all what was expected. Conditions are much worse now—crime and bootlegging have increased."

Tennessee Republicans Adopt Bone-Dry Platform

A bone-dry platform for the coming fall elections was adopted by the Tennessee Republicans at their recent state convention held in Chattanooga. This action, according to the Christian Science Monitor, means to the wets the end of any possibility of legalized liquor before the meeting of the state general assembly in 1937.

Both Democratic candidates for governor have announced dry platforms and Governor Hill McAllister, who is seeking re-election, declares the national repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment in no way affects the existing temperance laws of Tennessee, and adds: "We shall not experiment with them now. I shall oppose any attempts to change them." The Republicans have no candidate for governor.

Merchants Lose To Wilberforce

In an exciting game on the local diamonds, Wilberforce won over Cedarville 2 to 1. The heavy hitting was done by Waddle for Cedarville, who connected for a triple. While Green tripled and Lewis batted a homer for Wilberforce. Lewis sent the ball sailing over the right field fence for probably the longest hit on the local diamonds. Blosser gave up only three hits and Turner held the locals to four hits. The Merchants couldn't find the ball and struck out seven times. Blosser whiffing five of the opponents. PHEASANT CHICKS FROM INCUBATORS

Good Results Reported by Experiment Station.

Two years of experiments on 11,000 eggs and 1,000 chicks of ringnecked pheasants gave results which have been published in a bulletin by the Pennsylvania state college agricultural experiment station.

Prof. E. W. Callenbach, of the poultry husbandry department, conducted the project in co-operation with the Pennsylvania board of game commissioners. The investigation included artificial methods of propagation for rearing the pheasants.

It was found that ringnecked pheasant eggs can be hatched satisfactorily in modern artificial incubators. The best results were obtained when the eggs were incubated for eighteen days at relatively high humidity in an agitated-air or forced-draft incubator and then were hatched in a separate, sectional, still-air incubator.

Ringnecked pheasant chicks were brooded satisfactorily in colony houses with attached wire-floored sun porches. After the chicks reached six weeks of age they needed more room. Battery brooding proved unsatisfactory because of excessive mortality and poor feather development.

Better early growth of ringnecked pheasant chicks was obtained on rations of higher protein content than those used for chicks of the domestic fowl. The best growth and feathering and the greatest feed consumption per 100 chicks were obtained through the use of a ration analyzing approximately 28 per cent protein.

Claw Guards on Toms to Save Injury to the Hens

With a few cents worth of rubber tubing for each tom, turkey growers can solve one of their most serious problems, that of having hens severely lacerated and sometimes even killed during the breeding season by the sharp claws of the male birds. Doctor W. A. Billings, veterinary specialist at the Minnesota University farm, suggests putting a short length of rubber tubing over each toenail of breeding toms.

Tubing one-fourth inch in diameter with one-sixteenth inch hole, is the variety recommended. A half-inch piece of tubing is slipped on over the toenail and left protruding a little beyond the sharp end. It is suggested that the claw be smeared with rubber tire cement or glue before the rubber is put on. The guards do not interfere with the gait of the toms and do not seem to annoy them in any way. The use of these guards not only will protect the hens, but will make it unnecessary to use saddles or canvas coverings for them.

ELIJAH HEARS GOD'S VOICE

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 19:1-21. GOLDEN TEXT—Therefore Eli said unto Samuel, O, he down; and it shall be, if he call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak, Lord; for they servant heareth. So Samuel went and lay down in his place. 1 Samuel 3:10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Elijah Listening to God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—When Elijah Was Ready to Give Up.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Does God Speak to Us?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Hearing and Obeying God.

This lesson story proves Elijah to have been a man of like passions as we are (James 5:17).

1. Elijah's Flight (vv. 1-14).

From Ahaz's return from the excitement on Mt. Carmel he told us that even all her prophets had been hewn to pieces by the sword. This so enraged her that she sent a message of death to Elijah who seemed to have been waiting at the gate (vv. 1, 2).

Through Elijah's courageous stand before the king and the priests of Baal, he now covered before this woman and fled for his life.

1. Elijah under the Juniper tree (vv. 3-7). The juniper tree was a shrub of the desert which afforded shelter and protection to travelers from the burning sun by day and the cold wind by night.

a. His request (v. 4). This was that he might die. The discouragement and despondency of Elijah was due to the nervous strain of nearly four years of unusual service for God which culminated on Mt. Carmel.

b. God's tender treatment (vv. 5-7). (1) He gave him sleep (v. 5). "The Lord knew that Elijah needed sleep."

(2) He sent an angel to cook Elijah's meal (vv. 6, 7). The angel of the Lord is usually understood to be the second messenger of the Holy Trinity. Thus we see Jehovah-Jesus preparing food for his servant Elijah just as he did afterward for his discouraged disciples by Galilee (John 21:10). God again gave him sleep and food.

2. Elijah at Horeb (vv. 8-14). God had kindly ministered to his discouraged prophet so that he would be in a fit condition to receive the needed instruction and correction. Elijah had erred in running away from his field of ministry. God as a tender Father nursed back to health this runaway and erring child of his before issuing the needed and just reprimand.

a. God's interview with Elijah in the cave (vv. 9, 10).

(1) God's question (v. 9). "What doest thou here Elijah?" This was a stinging rebuke though most kindly given. It implied that his appointed messenger was now for away from the field of duty. Elijah was not where God wanted him but God sought him where he was.

(2) Elijah's answer (v. 10). Elijah tried to vindicate himself by asserting his loyalty to God. Because of this loyalty he had not only rejected his message and dissonance, but had sought to destroy him.

b. God's interview with Elijah on the Mount (vv. 11-14). While standing before the Lord on the Mount, God caused a mighty demonstration of wind, earthquake and fire to pass before him, to show him the nature of the work which he had been doing for God, and to show him what was lacking in his work for the fullest attainment of success. Elijah had about him much of the whirlwind, earthquake, and fire. His work had been terrifying and alarming, but it lacked in gentleness and love. The world is not taken for Christ by the energy of the flesh and the enthusiasm of conventions, but by quiet hearts proclaiming God's word in the energy of the Holy Spirit, trusting him to do the work.

11. Elijah's Return (vv. 15-18).

Though Elijah had erred, God brought him again into his service. It is most comforting to know that God does not reject his servants because of their failures in times of despondency. He deals with them after the motives of their hearts. Before God would come in his chariot to take Elijah home, he sent him upon a threefold ministry:

1. To anoint Hazael king over Syria (v. 15).

2. To anoint Jehu king over Israel (v. 16).

3. To anoint Elisha as his own successor (vv. 19-21).

(11). The Seven Thousand Faithful Ones (v. 18).

It must have encouraged Elijah greatly to be assured that seven thousand had not yet bowed their knees to Baal. Though Elijah's time of ministry was soon to close, the work must be carried on. His mantle fell upon Elisha.

To the Glory of God

Paul said: "Whosoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." If we do these little things under the compulsion of a great motive—the glory of God—we will some day find that God has led us through these paths of obscurity in order that he might bring up to some great deed that will advance the interests of his kingdom.

Shuts Out the Gospel

When people lose their culture solely upon the wisdom of this world, the Gospel has small chance with them.
